AUTO IS HELD UP AND TWO ARE KILLED

PORTLAND, March 30.—Posses are searching the surrounding country in hopes of capturing three daring highway men who held up an automobile party at Riverdale last night.

The bandits, who were armed with shotguns, demanded that the occupants of the machine give up their money and jewelry, and upon their refusal the robbers shot and killed George Hastings and Donald Stewart and seriously wounded Irving Lupton.

After committing the crime the thieves took all the booty obtainable from the bodies of the dead and injured and disappeared into the country to the west of the scene of the crime.

A telegraphic description of the bandits has been sent broadcast over the state and another posse will start in the morning in the hopes of forming a cordon around the highwaymen.

The weather map, after a consultation with the ladies, promises fair weather for tomorrow.

MEXICO CITY, March 30.—A dispatch says that General Aubert escaped from the rebels and is retreating toward Torreon where the federalists will make their stand. The government is censoring all press reports, yesterday suppressing the entire edition of the Herald, when it spoke of a condition of anarchy existing.

EL PASO, March 30.—Dispatches received here say that General Aubert, of the federal forces, lost over a hundred and fifty men at the battle of Atencinco yesterday, while the rebel loss was 60. Twenty-two federalists were captured. The fighting near Jimenez continues. The federalists are massing at Torreon and a bitter fight is looked for tomorrow.

CASE AGAINST BAKER WEAK

RENO, Nev., March 30.—The session of yesterday in the hearing of the charges made against Warden Raymond Baker by Governor Oddie contained little of interest, and it is the general opinion that the governor has fallen down in his attempt to show that Baker was guilty of any wrong-doing in his conduct of the prison.

The refusal of Accountant Paul Gaston to answer the questions put to him by the attorney general was taken by many as to indicate that the expert had not found anything of a damaging character against Baker and that the case would fall of its own weight. The general opinion is that Governor Oddie, as usual, has been poorly advised, and those who have heretofore been his advisors are in a fair way to lose what little prestige they have left.

As the matter now stands, Baker has public sentiment back of him and the general opinion is that the governor thought that Ray was absorbing too much of the limelight.

The newspapers throughout the United States are daily printing stories about Tonopah and the wonderful showings we have. Let the good work continue.

Everyone should take the home paper; it evidences the right spirit.

England and Germany Also to Take Steps to Protect Their Citizens.

Special Dispatch to the Bonanza:

WASHINGTON, March 30.—It is stated here this afternoon that the war department is making preparations to rush a large body of troops to the Mexican border, in view of the situation in that country.

All day long orders have been issued to the different bureaus telling them to prepare for any emergency that may arise and to have things in such shape as to permit the quick mobilization of troops at some point on the border. Word has also been sent to the navy department to have some of the vessels that are now in the Atlantic waters ready to repair to the nearest Mexican port upon receiving word from the American ambassador.

It is understood that a message has been received from our representatives in Mexico City and other points that the situation is most grave and that if the United States does not interfere at once the lives of many American will be in danger and the loss to the property interests will amount to many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

A conference is likely to be held tonight with the representatives of England and Germany to devise some plan of protecting the citizens of these countries, and it is more than probable that a united effort will be made to make the warring forces realize that the interests of foreigners must be protected.

Uncensored reports that have trickled through indicate that a condition of anarchy exists and that the situation is much graver than was thought yesterday.

Many who have been watching the course of events in Mexico ever since Madero was elected to the presidency are certain that his rule is at an end and by many it is predicted that he will flee the country as soon as the rebel troops reach Mexico City and that when the city is occupied by the rebel troops a condition too horrible to describe will exist.

Powers to Intervene in Italy-Turk War

ROME, March 29.—Six months ago today Italy declared war against Turkey and began the occupation of Tripoli and Cyrenaica. Today, with the war still in progress, with Italy only actually occupying the coast fringe of the occupied and annexed territories, and with no definite prospects of peace in sight, Italy's present and future policy, at least for some time to come, may be definitely described as that of sitting still and holding tight—making little or no progress.

Italian activities in the three principal naval engagements, that of the sinking of the Turkish torpedo boats by the Duke D'Abbruzzi off Prevesa, the sinking of seven Turkish gunboats in the Red sea and the recent sinking of a Turkish warship and torpedo boat at Beirut, have resulted in the complete annihilation of all that portion of the Turkish fleet which remained outside the Dardanelles after the declaration of war. In addition, the Italian navy has destroyed practically all of the Turkish fortifications along the Arabian coast, as well as along the coast of Tripoli and Cyrenaica. The fleet has always backed the army both in effecting a landing and in the battles which followed near the coast.

Within this coast range the Italians have occupied all the larger cities—Tripoli, Homs, Derna, Bengasi, Tobruk, Tagura, Zanzur and Zuara—and have pushed into the interior of Tripoli as far as Ain-Zarah. Between this fringe of coast territory and the desert to the south the Italians have thrown up a line of defense declared absolutely impregnable by the best military authorities of Europe.

Final adjustment of the war it now seems certain will come about in either one of two ways. It may be by a peaceable intervention of the powers or it may be by drastic action on the part of the Italian navy against Turkish possessions nearer Turkey proper. It is generally conceded that at any time the Italian navy can make a demonstration either against Constantinople or some other Turkish city that would force immediate peace negotiations. This, however, for at least three reasons, Italy and the powers wish to avoid.

In the first place, the bombardment of any large Turkish city would result in heavy loss to the financial interests of practically all the European powers which have investments throughout the Turkish empire. In the second place it would almost certainly result in a massacre of Christians in the Turkish empire by the Mussulman tribes, and in the third place it probably would be the firebrand to start a war in the Balkans, ending finally in a general European war. It now therefore seems probable that Italy will merely continue a policy of sitting still and holding tight to what she is already certain of until such a time that it becomes absolutely necessary for the European powers to force a peace settlement. Whenever that time may come it is understood thoroughly that it will be on a basis of Italy retaining possession and sovereignty of Tripoli and Cyrenaica, regardless of whatever other terms may be imposed.

Goldfield Moose to Visit Tonopah

That Goldfield is taking a great interest in the organization of a lodge of Moose in Tonopah is shown by a letter that J. A. Buchanan, who is organizing the local lodge, received yesterday, in which it states that the Goldfield boys have made arrangements for a special train and will bring over at least 150 members in addition to their band of twenty pieces the night that the Tonopah lodge is instituted.

Mr. Buchanan says that the work of organization is progressing nicely and that he is confident that the Tonopah lodge will be one of the strongest in the state. The men so far enrolled are good substantial citizens and it is proposed to keep the lodge up to the standard that has been set. Mr. Buchanan, who is also a deputy supreme dictator, is making arrangements for a communication from the supreme lodge, which will be forwarded to Tonopah in the near future.

REFERENDUM VOTE ON STRIKE PROPOSITION

CLEVELAND, Mar. 30.—A complete suspension of operations in the coal fields for two weeks beginning, will it is thought, result in a compromise as this morning a joint conference between the operators and the bituminous miners was held.

Strenuous efforts are being made by civic organizations to bring about settlement.

WISE IS AFTER STEAMER TRUST

NEW YORK, March 30.—Federal Attorney Wise has filed a suit in the federal court asking for the dissolution of the various steamship companies who are engaged in a general traffic from New York to the far east via the Suez canal. The companies are accused by Mr. Wise of having a pooling agreement as to freight rates and also that they have been rebating. It is considered here that this is the first step toward breaking up the steamship trust which has kept the prices of transportation so high as to run out many of the small shippers.

ILLINOIS WILL HOLD PRIMARY ELECTION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 30.—The house has just, by a unanimous vote, passed the presidential primary law and the primaries will be held on April 19. It is expected that a bitter contest will be waged at the polls.

Miners' Union Hall Will Be Decorated

Mr. George Davidovich, one of the pioneers of Tonopah and one of its sturdy supporters in the early days, has just returned from an extended tour of Europe and he declares that Tonopah is just about the best town that he has visited; that her people are more contented, are better off financially, and enjoying a greater degree of prosperity than any place he visited.

That Mr. Davidovich has the greatest confidence in the camp and that he believes that the best times are those to come is shown by the fact that he has ordered that the Miners Exchange hall, of which he is proprietor, be decorated, and has secured the services of the well-known decorator, L. H. Conley, who will thoroughly renovate the hall.

The decorations will consist of scenes from the Orient, Switzerland, the River Rhine and other places which Mr. Davidovich visited and of which he brought back many pictures. The work will be done in such a manner as to bring out the beauties of the places depicted. The work will be completed in time for the Elks' annual ball.
